Hello my name is Alex, here is a small summary about myself.

I was born and live in Russia, I have been working as an engineer since 2001, the same year began working in solid works. In the course of my working experience, I have become capable of designing drawings according to any standards and rules, working with absolutely any materials being necessary for production.

I have worked both at the contractor's side (at the factory) and at the customer's side (various brands of clothing). Now I am working in the field of fashion retail. My experience enables me to manufacture drawings and launch retail fixtures in any country worldwide, I have accustomed both to independent work and to team work. My strong qualities include enhanced responsibility, ability to concentrate in any situation and achieve the required result.

As an employee, I am conflict-free, can easily joins in any team; in addition, I like what I am dealing with now and I'd like to continue working in the field of fashion retail or close to it.

I can easily learn languages provided a language practice with native speakers.

At present I design drawings and communicate in English with foreign vendors and suppliers (China, Taiwan, Poland, Spain, Estonia, Germany, Switzerland)

In addition, I began learning German.
